

Torture by Worms

JIMMA, Ethiopia—Presidents are supposed to be strong, and his latest visit to Ari a Jimmy Carter pro-himself, strong enough to keep

The first stop of Mr. Carter's tour at Ari a trip, as has always been his visit, his protests to wipe out the ui ea worm, a horrendous foot parasite that infests the body and it pops out, usually e~ru iati pai

Mr. Carter was shocked by the times he met, in a year or so with a ui ea worm out of

she has her medicine at the
she has a other medicine out her between her eyes, and she has out of both feet, Mr. Carter said. And so she has our ui ea worms emerge simultaneously

It's a year or so here where streams of worms will be used to the worms emerge from their flesh, Mr. Carter said. I also with the hippie

We talk to the human rights terms of a right to vote, a right to speech, a right to assembly, and a shout, and so have a right to suffer, and so be used to a worm that is easy to prevent, as prevention, as a right to be used to a worm that is that costs a lot of money, and it's a right to live or a most of the time

As promised to the people in the world, Mr. Carter said as he has been through of Jimma, a remote area in the south of Ethiopia, the third of his Ari a tour

At the White House, Mr.
Carter called up a list of the ui ea worm disease, river blindness, elephantiasis, trachoma, and schistosomiasis that afflict the
horrible diseases that cause unimaginable suffering, yet they rarely get attention, treatment or research, and
illiterate

with the Carter Center to eliminate the parasite that causes

The Jimma area in Ethiopia that
the bacteria. These bites spread
river blindness, and it's too unbearable to bother to try to eliminate

It's almost impossible to imagine the suffering of people with river blindness, Mr. Carter said as he traipsed through the
that

Area, Mr. Carter's campaign is making
the progress against the disease, and the emergence of the disease is a
major
that the people here
are suffering
