- Attacks against former opposition fighters and Government of Syria (GoS) soldiers by unidentified armed actors continued \(\mathbb{Y}\) \(\cdot\) \(\mathbb{S}\)\(\mathbb{S}\) \(\frac{1}{6}\)\(\mathbb{G}\)\(\mathbb{S}\)\(\mathbb{S}'\)
- The Druze-led Counter-Terrorism Force clashed with GoS-backed National Defense Forces in As-Sweida Governorate.
- GoS began a new settlement process allowing former opposition and wanted individuals to defer military conscription for the areas under its control in Deir-ez-

°¢¡®°¤¡ °š§¡ «²¡ ®«¢ˇ š® šʻš° Ÿ %±°; ¥® fi« vernorates by the Government of Syria (GoS), former opposition commanders gained prominence by exploiting old rivalries within GoS factions and leading influential political and military groups. The existence of these rival armed groups have caused tensions with GoS soldiers and officials. Attacks against former opposition and GoS figures by unidentified armed actors are common in š® šʻfi«²¡ ® «®°¡. Both sides blame the other for the attacks. Occasionally, this has escalated into sieges and conflict between the former opposition and GoS armed forces. Following the July-'¡¬°¡ ©>¡ ® ¬¥ £¡ ` «¢ ` š® š ` š¬-Balad, ² GoS armed forces spearheaded new settlement agreements in an effort to marginalize former opposition figures and assert the authority of GoS armed forces.³ These settlement deals typically require

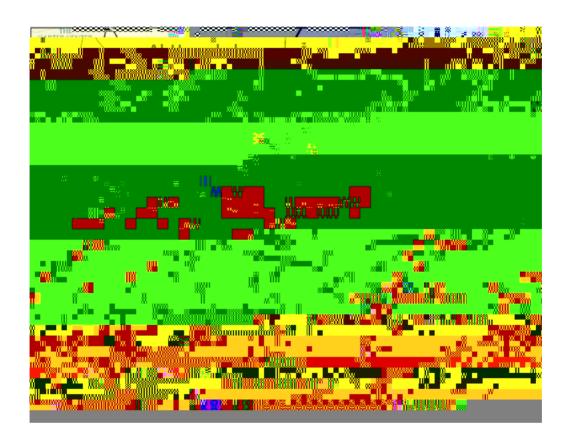

_

^{1/\(\}frac{\pmathcase}{\pmathcase}\) \(\frac{\pmathcase}{\pmathcase}\) \(\

² https://storymaps.arcgis.com/stories/77e354b12e6f47f6b81ae7692ec45c26, https://storymaps.arcgis.com/stories/9001a6b8a5254bdc9d32db642add3511 https://storymaps.arcgis.com/stories/757f4c040ee5484593ecaa264ac7d59a

 a hospital in As-Sweida city, angering families and local militias, which led to protests and further clashes.¹⁹ On the same day, in response to the arrests, the CTF published a video accusing the NDF of instigating the recent tensions.²⁰

Due to the increased tensions in As-Sweida city, local armed groups and political factions met to discuss the recent standoff at the As-Sweida city hospital and warned GoS from taking further armed actions.²¹

During the campaign to defeat ISIS, control of Deir-ez-Zor Governorate has been divided mostly along the Euphrates River. Tensions between GoS authorities and the Syrian Democratic Forces (SDF) remain high, with reported clashes between the two occasionally occurring along the river. The GoS-controlled territory in the governorate maintains a strong Iranian presence, particularly in the cities near the Syria-Iraq border.

¹⁹ https://suwayda24.com/?p=18108, https://www.enabbaladi.net/archives/527465

²⁰ https://www.enabbaladi.net/archives/527504

²¹ https://npasyria.com/en/68304/

²² https://tinyurl.com/yurr7hb7

Governorate was partially inspired by the recent $\# o \approx_i e^{-i} \circ_i e^{-i}$

The settlement process began in Deir-ez-Zor Governorate.²³ The same day, GoS armed forces arrested 4 men near Jdeidat Akidat, western Deir-ez-Zor Governorate.²⁴ The arrest occurred after the men had completed the settlement process.²⁵

The Autonomous Administration of Northeast Syria (AANES) condemned the settlement process in Deir-ez-Zor Governorate. AANES also warned, without explanation, that any employee found conducting a settlement with GoS would be fired and prevented from any future work with any AANES institution.²⁶

For earlier conflict summaries, please click here. For an interactive map of historical areas of control in Syria, please click here.

###

Page 6 of 6